EISENHOWER JUNIOR SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
LAWTON, OKLAHOMA

The Ring of Unity

Although the climax in the story of the ring came when the rings were finally distributed on September 14, 1964, the details leading to this event are little known and seldom appreciated.

Using the life and accomplishments of Dwight D. Eisenhower as an inspiration, many people made suggestions to Mr. Dosser concerning what might be included on the ring. Actual work commenced in March, 1963, when Mr. Robert D. Hahn brought two color sketches of a ring design to Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School. A few changes were made, and diework began the following June.

The two sample rings, a boy's and a girl's, were first seen by an excited crowd at the Eisenhower-Riverside basketball game on January 31, 1964.

In March, the long awaited rings could be seen on display in the office showcase.

Juniors placed orders for their rings in April, and the following September introduced the bands of blue and gold into the daily life of Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School.

A tradition was born.

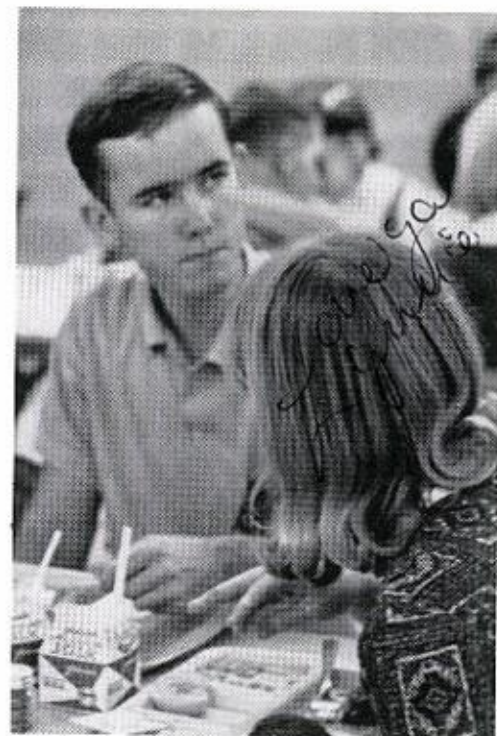

"We're from Eisenhower and we're proud . . ."

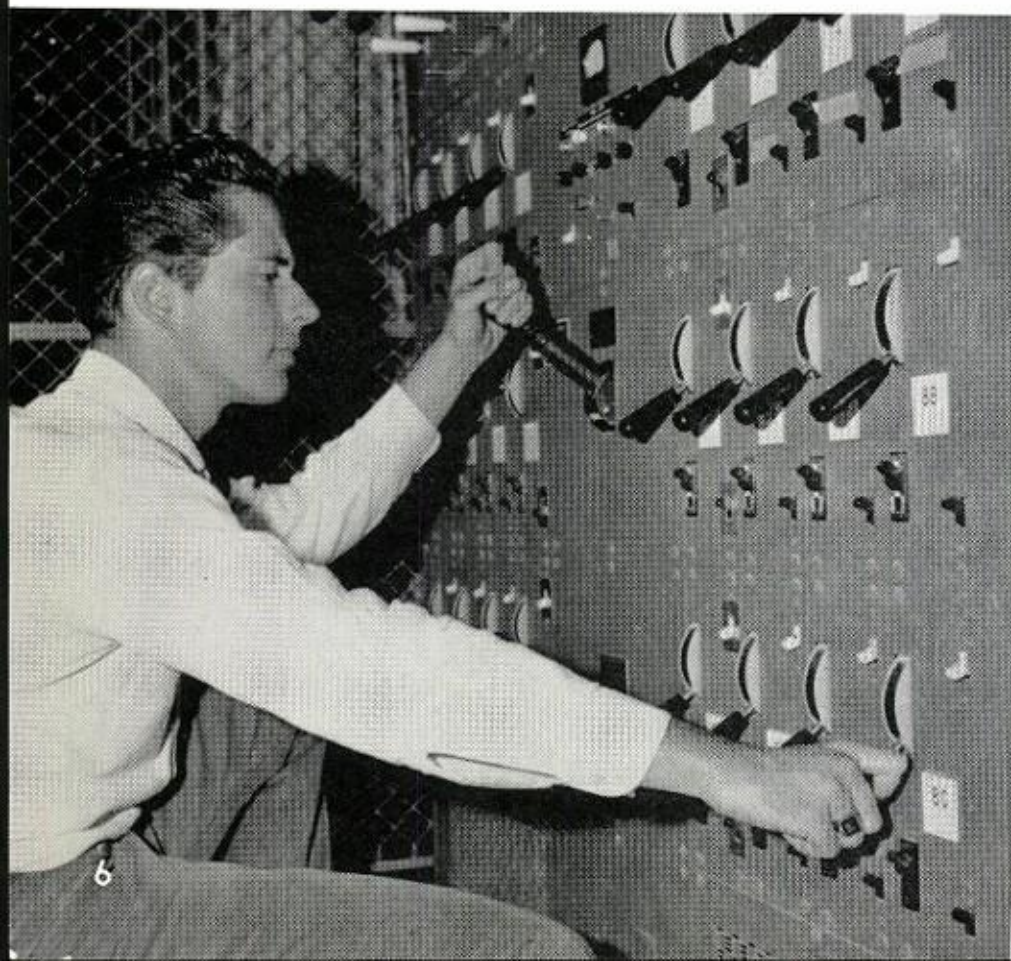

The words of the familiar victory song seem to express well the feelings of the first graduating class of Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School. The ring is our emblem, and the school, our throne. We glance at our hands of seniority and receive a fresh comprehension of the pride and excellence of which they are symbolic.

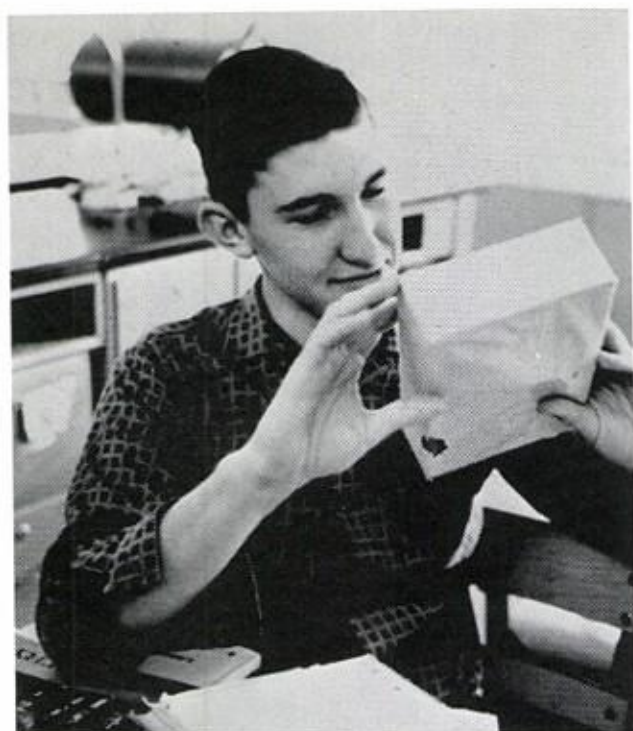

Our days are full days . . . moments spent in lazy conversation, hours lost in concentrated study, times of laughter, and reflections, and regrets over the briefness of it all. And then it is gone. A chapter of our lives is finished, and ready to be set aside. The memories will linger; the funny, significant details will always produce a laugh or a sigh. This is the climax to twelve years of tears, toil, fun and life.

But it is also the beginning. The door to a future that won't be quite so frightening, quite so large as before. We have discovered a whole new world of knowledge, experience, and capability. And we have left our mark.

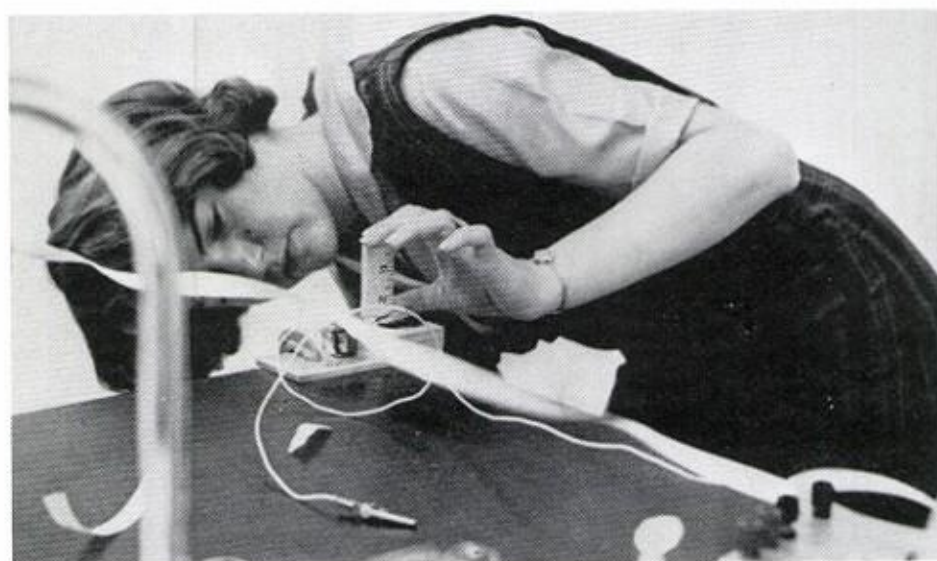

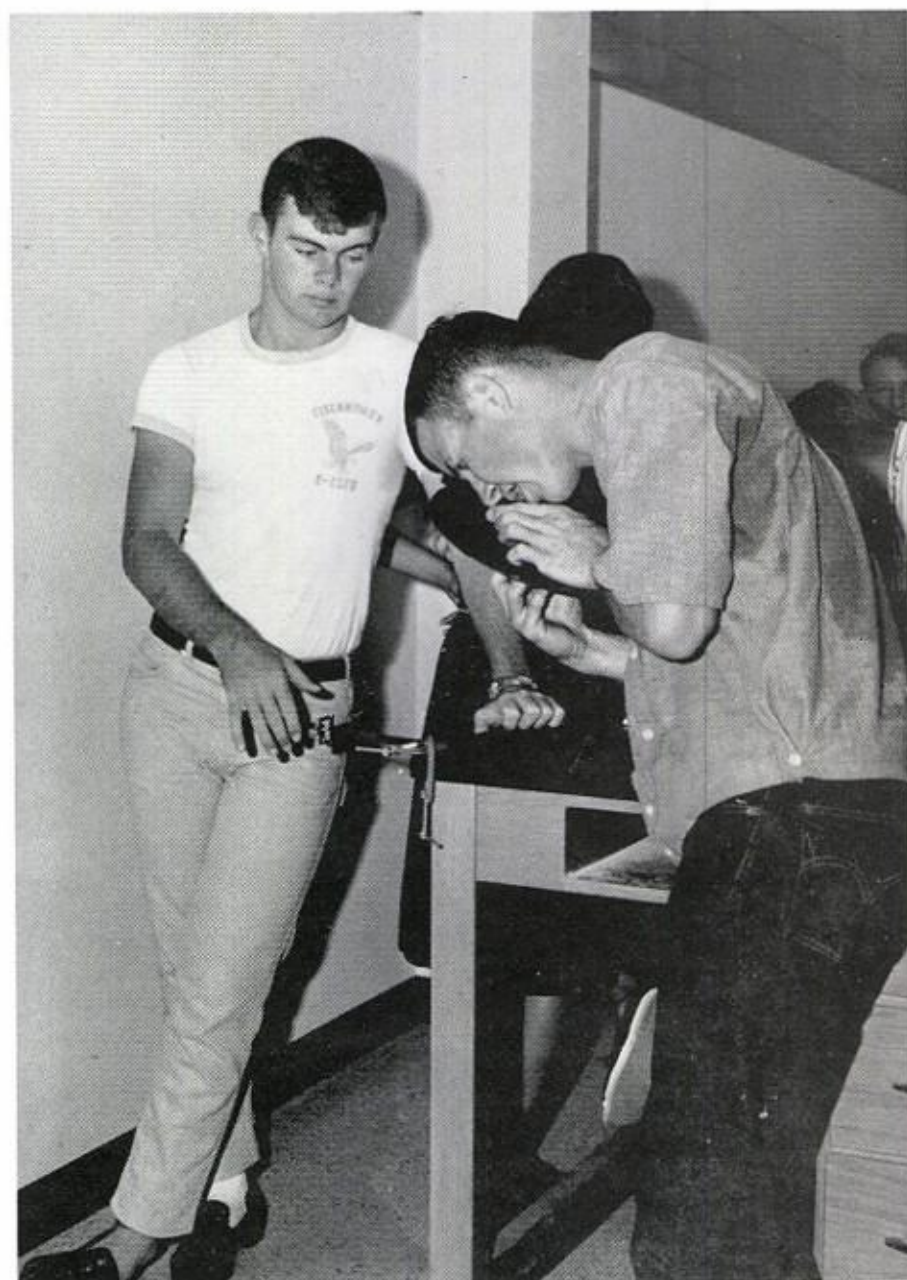

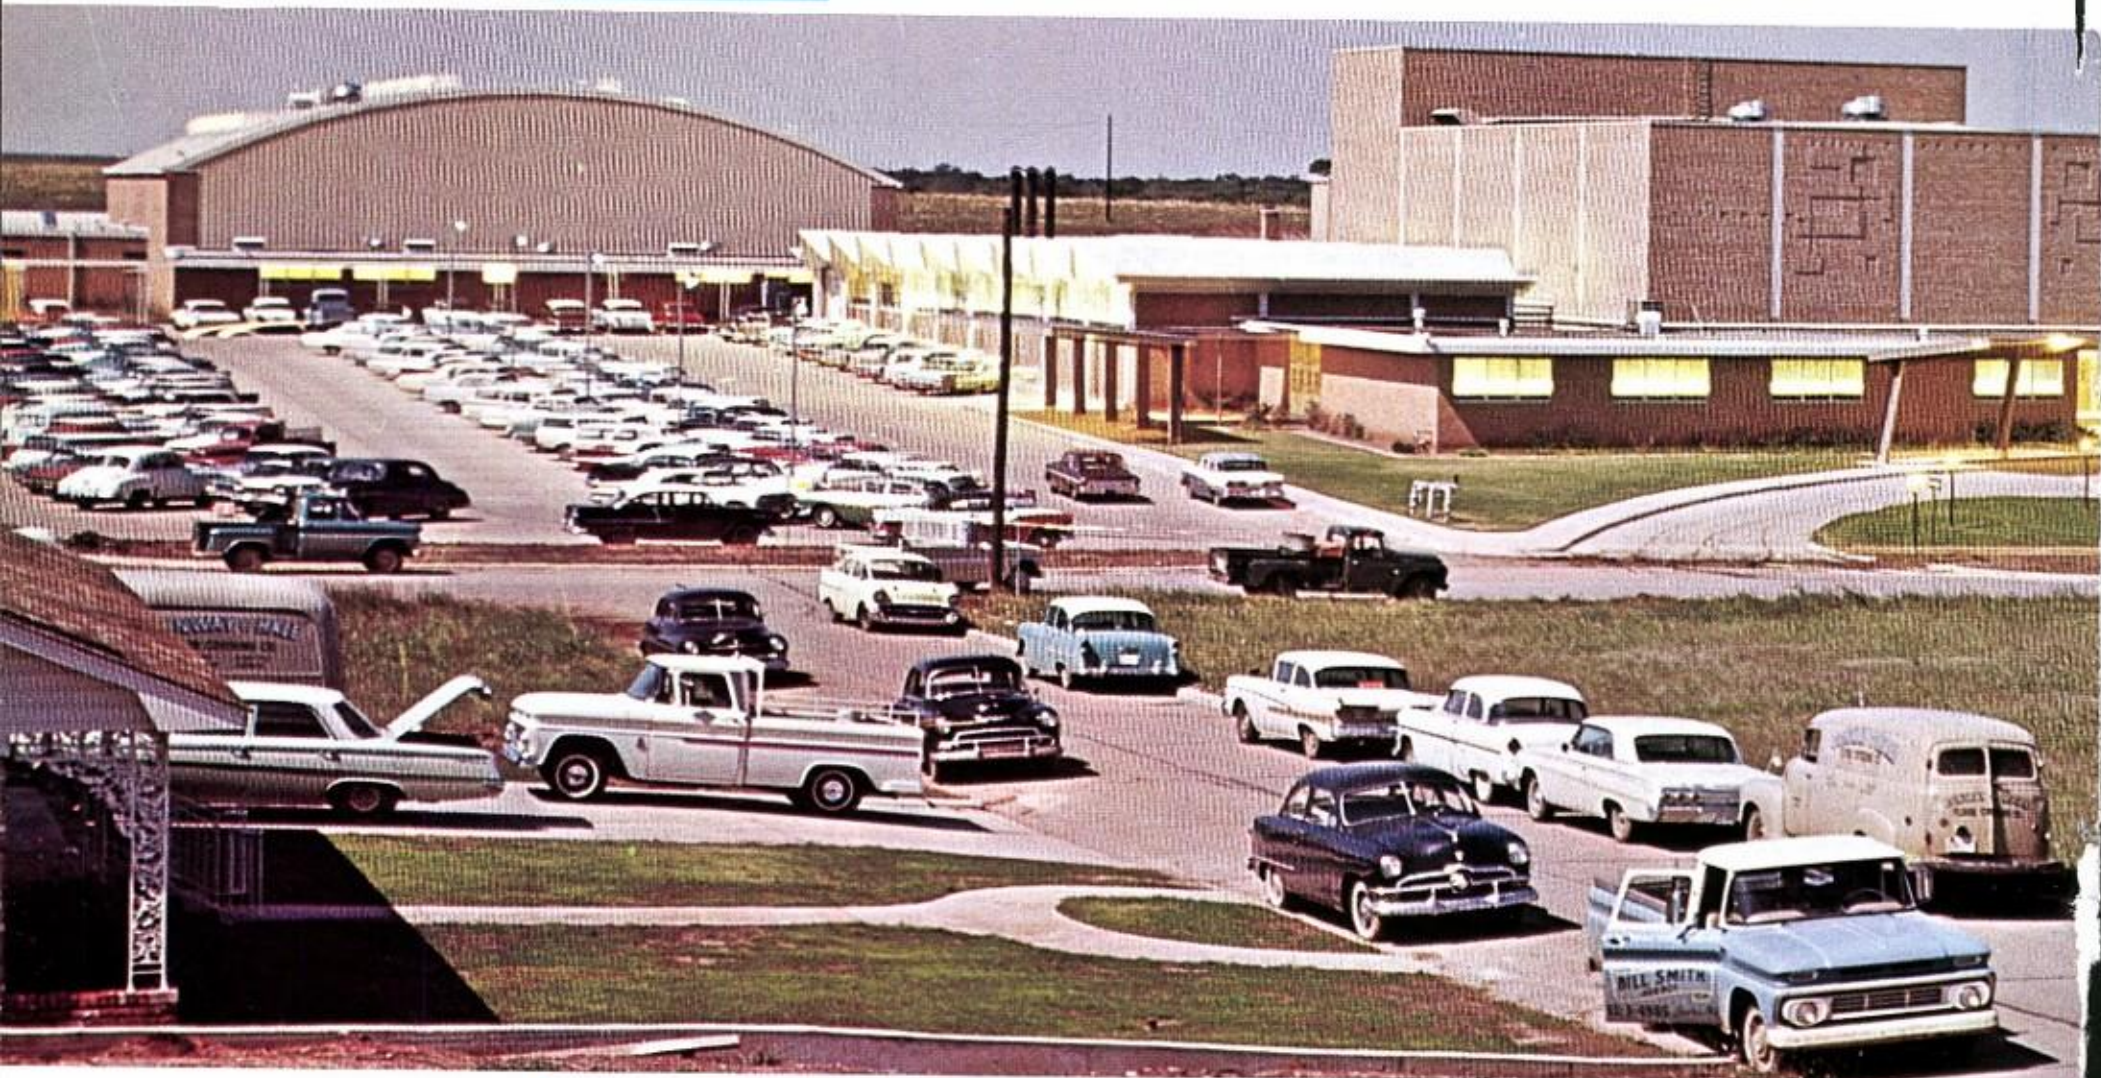

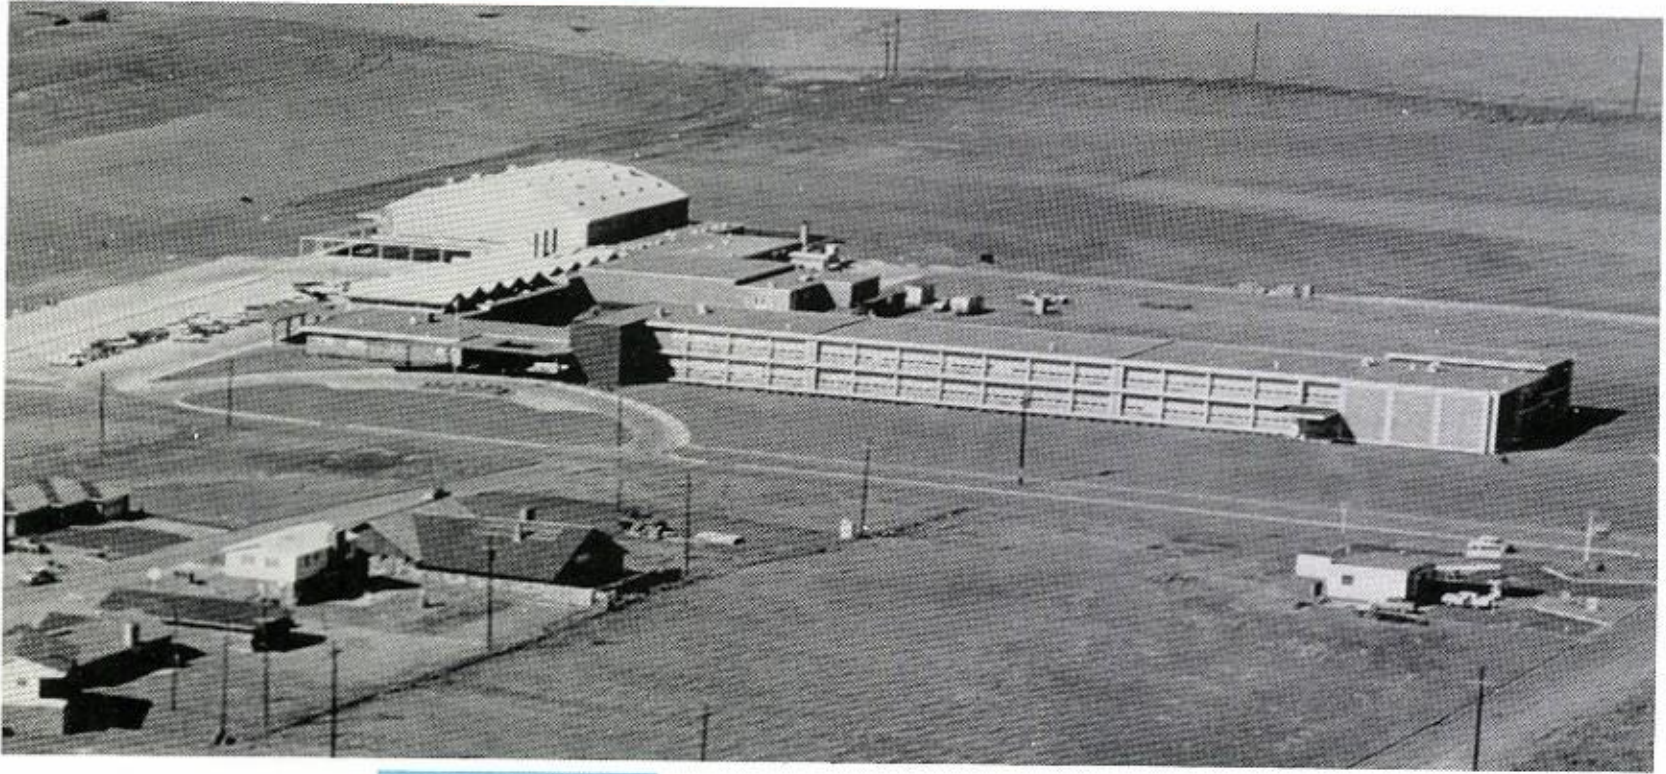

Seniors May Claim

Their Rings . . .

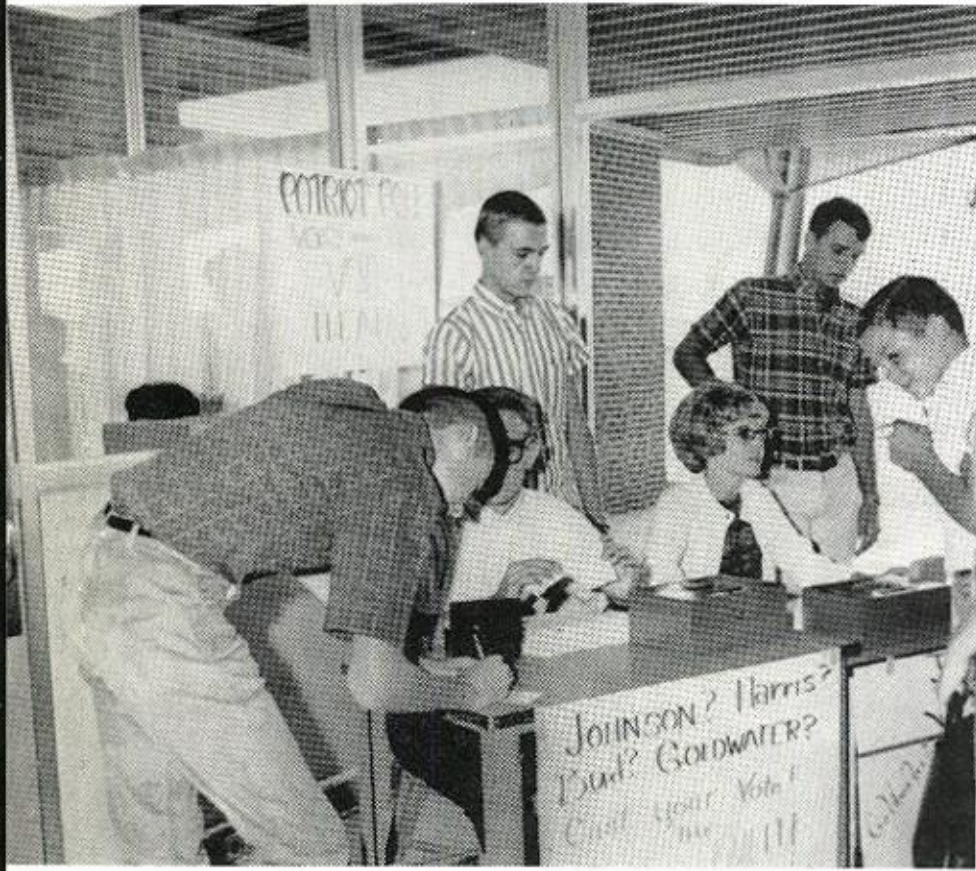

Three Years Later . . .

From its origination to the additions of the auditorium, the temporary buildings, and the new wing, Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School has gradually begun to establish a firm position in the nucleus of our city. Yet, even with these significant changes, our school is not complete.

We are enlarging our departments, enabling them to meet and challenge the abilities of our students. At the end of our third year in operation, several of our departments have been nationally recognized for their superior achievements.

This is the end of the first year in which Eisenhower has been a complete high school. But it is also a beginning—the beginning of a dream that is quickly becoming a reality.

These Are Our People . . .

Studying, discovering, voting, experimenting, relaxing, conversing, conquering.

From the contagious enthusiasm of a football game, to the silent dignity of a dedicational assembly, the Eagle spirit reigns.

Spirit! The word is difficult to define. It can be seen in the faces, in the eyes of the students as they study, as they converse in the classrooms, as they go about their daily routine, simply enjoying the things they do.

It is heard in their voices; their chatter and banter between classes, the clear laughter, the sudden seriousness. Spirit is the entire student body joining together to sing the victory song before an important game, the agony over defeat, and the pride that comes so easily over a victory.

It is the student himself; his moods, his loyalty, his scholarship and ability. It is the strange, unconquerable power that unites us all in a common bond of strength and understanding.

Administration

The emblem of the capital has been chosen from our ring to represent the administration and faculty of Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School. The men and women who serve through the various channels of authority in the Lawton school system provide the core of operation that has already gained the highest of respect and admiration. The school board, Mr. Dosser, Mr. Neptune, the faculty, advisors, and office staff have directed the management and supervision of all school business and affairs. They have worked cooperatively and assiduously, gradually building Eisenhower into a prominent, as well as permanent, position in the community and city activities. Their untiring efforts are greatly appreciated by all E.H.S. students, and we take this opportunity to express our deep gratitude and undying fidelity.

Principal

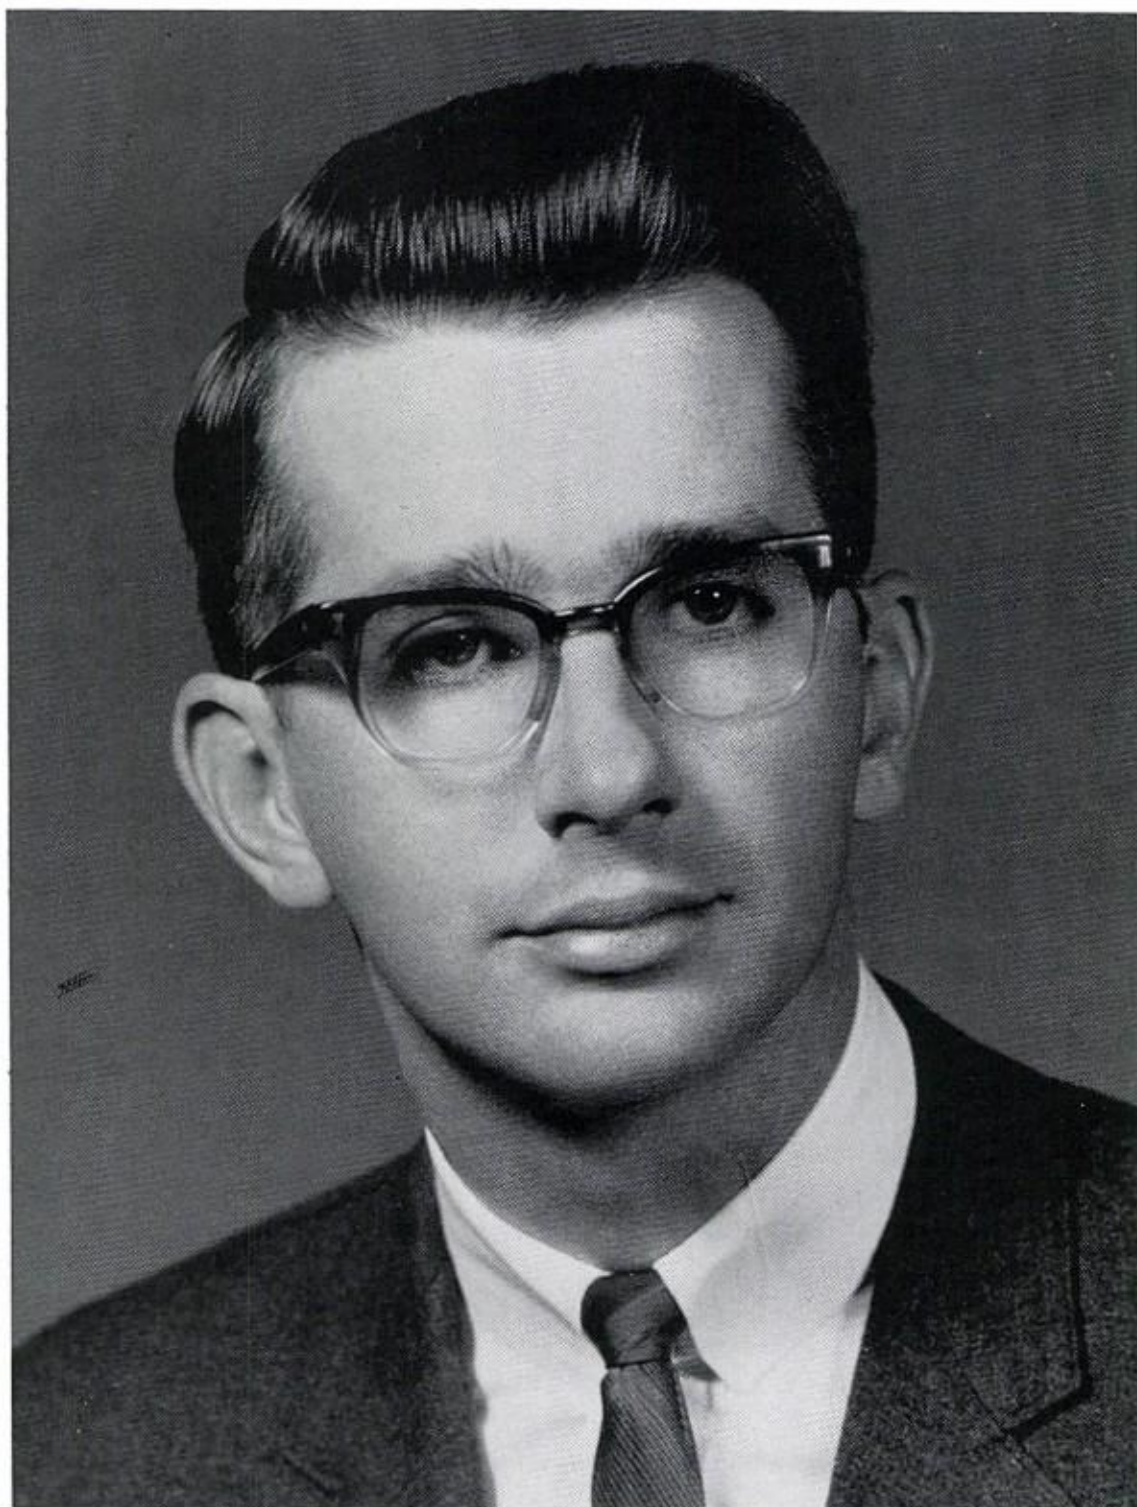

Mr. Glenn Dosser has been the principal of Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School since its origin in 1962. He obtained his Bachelor of Science degree at OSU, and his Master's degree at OU.

Entering the Lawton school system in 1937, he began his teaching and served as assistant coach until 1940, when he was made head football coach. Two years later, he entered the U. S. Air Force and upon discharge, had obtained the rank of Captain.

In 1954, he became counselor at Lawton High School, and three years later, principal of Central Junior High.

He now holds the office of president in the Lawton Kiwanis organization, and is a member of the Governor's Committee on Physical Fitness. He has given firm and astute leadership through the establishment of Eisenhower.

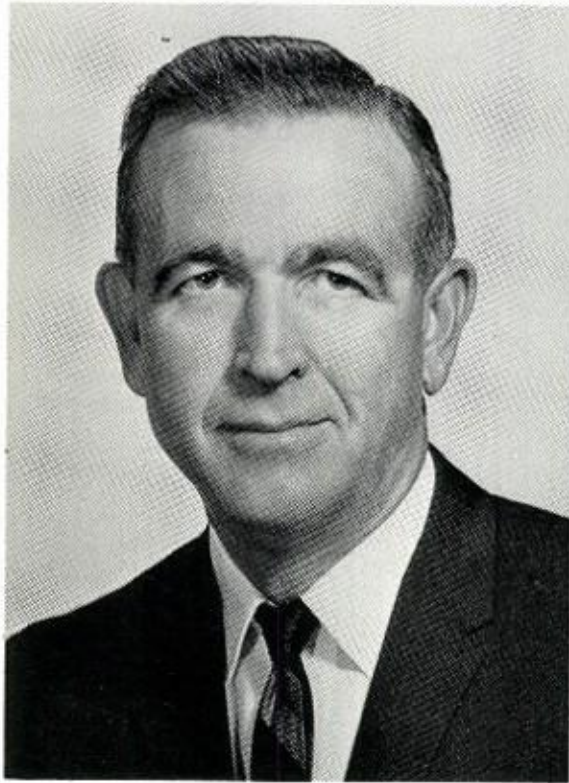

Assistant Principal

Mr. Richard Neptune has been in the Lawton School System for the past eight years. A graduate of Lawton High School, he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree from Oklahoma Baptist University, and his Master's degree from the University of Oklahoma.

Mr. Neptune has been an invaluable aid in the administration of Eisenhower, particularly in the preparation and program concerning the North Central Association. His congenial attitude has left a lasting impression on both the student body, and those who have worked with him.

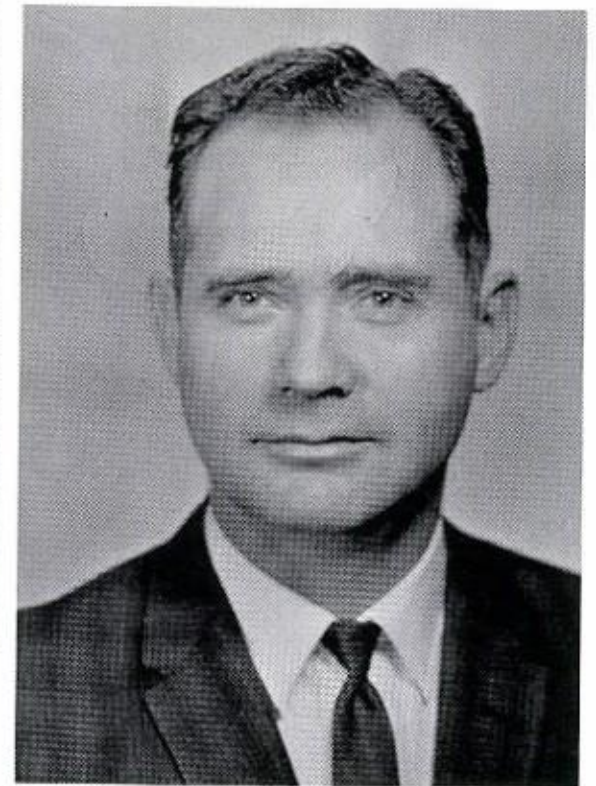

Serving as president of the Lawton Education Association, the Lawton Teachers Federal Credit Union, the Audio Visual Coordinators of Oklahoma, and on the Leadership Committee of Oklahoma's Secondary School Principals, Mr. Neptune has demonstrated his steadfast leadership with incomparable efficiency.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Lawton school board is a legislative branch of the Oklahoma school system. Under its direction, Superintendent John Shoemaker supervises our local educational program. Assisting him are Mr. Hugh Bish, in charge of Instruction, and Mr. John Elkins, of Personnel.

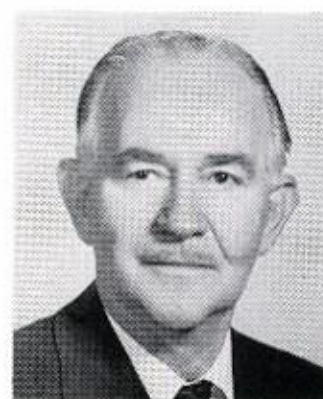

It is the responsibility of these men, along with the school board, to create a strong and efficient organization through which our schools are regulated. Each arising crisis is met with intelligence and skill, and completed with careful thought and consideration. This group of men forms the vital link between Eisenhower and the community in which we live.

COUNSELORS

Through the guidance department, the student receives aid in planning his present course of study, and in formulating ideas for his future education and occupation. These services help the student make his own choices and become increasingly self-directive.

OFFICE STAFF

The Office Staff has worked continuously in a most competent and cooperative manner. Financial and attendance reports are recorded daily, and all secretarial work for both the principal and vice-principal is accomplished through this division.

Faculty

The men and women who serve on the Eisenhower faculty constitute one of the most important branches within our school. We take this opportunity to show our gratitude for the long hours and devoted study they have contributed toward each student. It is not an uncommon sight to observe the concentrated efforts of a teacher and individual student long after the regular hours of school as they labor over the "not quite understood" problems or the make up lessons from a difficult course. They can be seen at the dances, athletic events, and various other school functions. They are the club sponsors, the counselors for special perplexities, and the perfect aid for a haywire assembly that needs a little mending here and there.

For their dedication and influence on the future of each student of E.H.S. we give this token of recognition and appreciation for jobs well done.

Senior High Classes

On May 29, 1965, Eisenhower will conclude its first year as a complete high school. This will be the year that introduces the adoption of the Victory flag, the Alma Mater, the traditional senior ring, and our final commencement exercises.

In this section we recognize the first Eisenhower High School graduates, and the Junior and Sophomore classes. Combined, they form an indomitable source of scholastic, activity, and athletic abilities. To them, we dedicate the "Top of the Ring."

Activities

The laurel leaves on the rings is symbolic of school life at Eisenhower. It denotes unity, cooperation, victory, and the joyous times that many of us have spent during the extracurricular activities that represent another facet of life at Eisenhower.

As exemplified in the next few pages, a student is almost certain to find a club or organization related to his or her particular field of interest. Here at Eisenhower there is something for everyone. Perhaps we have such a unified student body because each individual can strive for personal fulfillment through a myriad of school activities.

Some of the scenes depicted on the following pages will not be familiar to some, and may not have meaning to everyone. But they illustrate sublimely, many treasured and cherished moments. The scenes are self-explanatory. They demonstrate the many wonderful and happy moments to be remembered that we, Eisenhower students, have had the pleasure of sharing, together.

Organizations

The organizations within Eisenhower are represented by the "Torch and Book" emblems from our rings. This symbolizes the unique efforts of each club, or group toward the advancement of both scholastic and social interests. Each organization has a constitution read and passed by the High School Student Council. They depict the ideals and standards of the people within Eisenhower, their common likes and dislikes, their opinions, and ambitions. The organizations are used to create a stronger sense of achievement and interest. The individual work necessary to fulfill the purposes of the clubs instigates a perception of responsibility and obligation that will aid the student in his directives toward the future.

High School Student Council

The High School Student Council began the year with a Hi Dance. This was to renew old friendships and to welcome the arrival of all newcomers to E.H.S. Student Council activities of 1964-65 also marked the beginning of the City Activities Council, the dedication of the Victory flag, and the creation of our Alma Mater.

All club constitutions were read, criticized and made official. Twirp Week and the Spring Dance were sponsored by the Student Council. Eisenhower assisted Lawton High School in hosting the State Student Council Convention. Representing us were Chuck Lytle, Lana Gomez, George Sellers, and Jeni Jackson.

Most memorable to many was the coronation of our first All-Sports Queen, Jinny Coffin. The assembly coronation program was under the supervision of your Student Council.

Composed of elected representatives from each homeroom, and officers of all clubs and organizations, the Eisenhower High School Student Council is advancing quickly, creating an admirable reputation for our school, its standards, and its people.

The City Activities Council was formed only this year. Together with delegates from Lawton High School, and Douglas High School, our representatives meet each month to bring out subjects of interest and combine their efforts toward inter-school affairs and relationships.

Sports

We have chosen the "Winged Foot" emblem from our ring to symbolize the Athletic Department of Eisenhower. This is one of the main sources of the enthusiastic support and ageless spirit that surrounds the Eagle domain. Through the seasonal games of football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis and golf, the staunch abilities of the Eisenhower teams have gained only the highest of state recognition and respect.

It isn't all victory, however. Defeat comes hard and agonizingly to the young Eagles. But through their loss also comes a sense of conquest. For they have obtained a private triumph that will not disappear with the diminishing crowds. They have gained an experience from their attempts and even their failures, an experience that will direct them toward future victories and somehow mark the formation of character in the ideals epitomized by the Eisenhower men.

High School Football

We take this opportunity to recognize the boys and coaches of this year's football team. Taking away an eight-game win, one tie, and only two losses for this season, the high school Eagles have made a clear and lasting impression on the history of E.H.S. This year was marked by a broad sweep of victory until the final game with Oklahoma City's Star-Spencer. Here, in the state semi-finals contest, we swallowed the first bitter pill of defeat.

Thus the story of graduation draws near its climax ...

And each senior ...

is suddenly aware ...

of just how little time ...

Another door has closed, and the year '65 is completed. The past months will linger in our memories always, with their remembrances of happy and yet nostalgic moments we shared as a school. But with the tears of departure, we must also recognize the challenge of the future. There are roads ahead still untraversed, dreams unrealized, worlds unconquered.

It will be the responsibility of each individual to meet these challenges with the high standards exemplified by the Eisenhower people.

Advertising

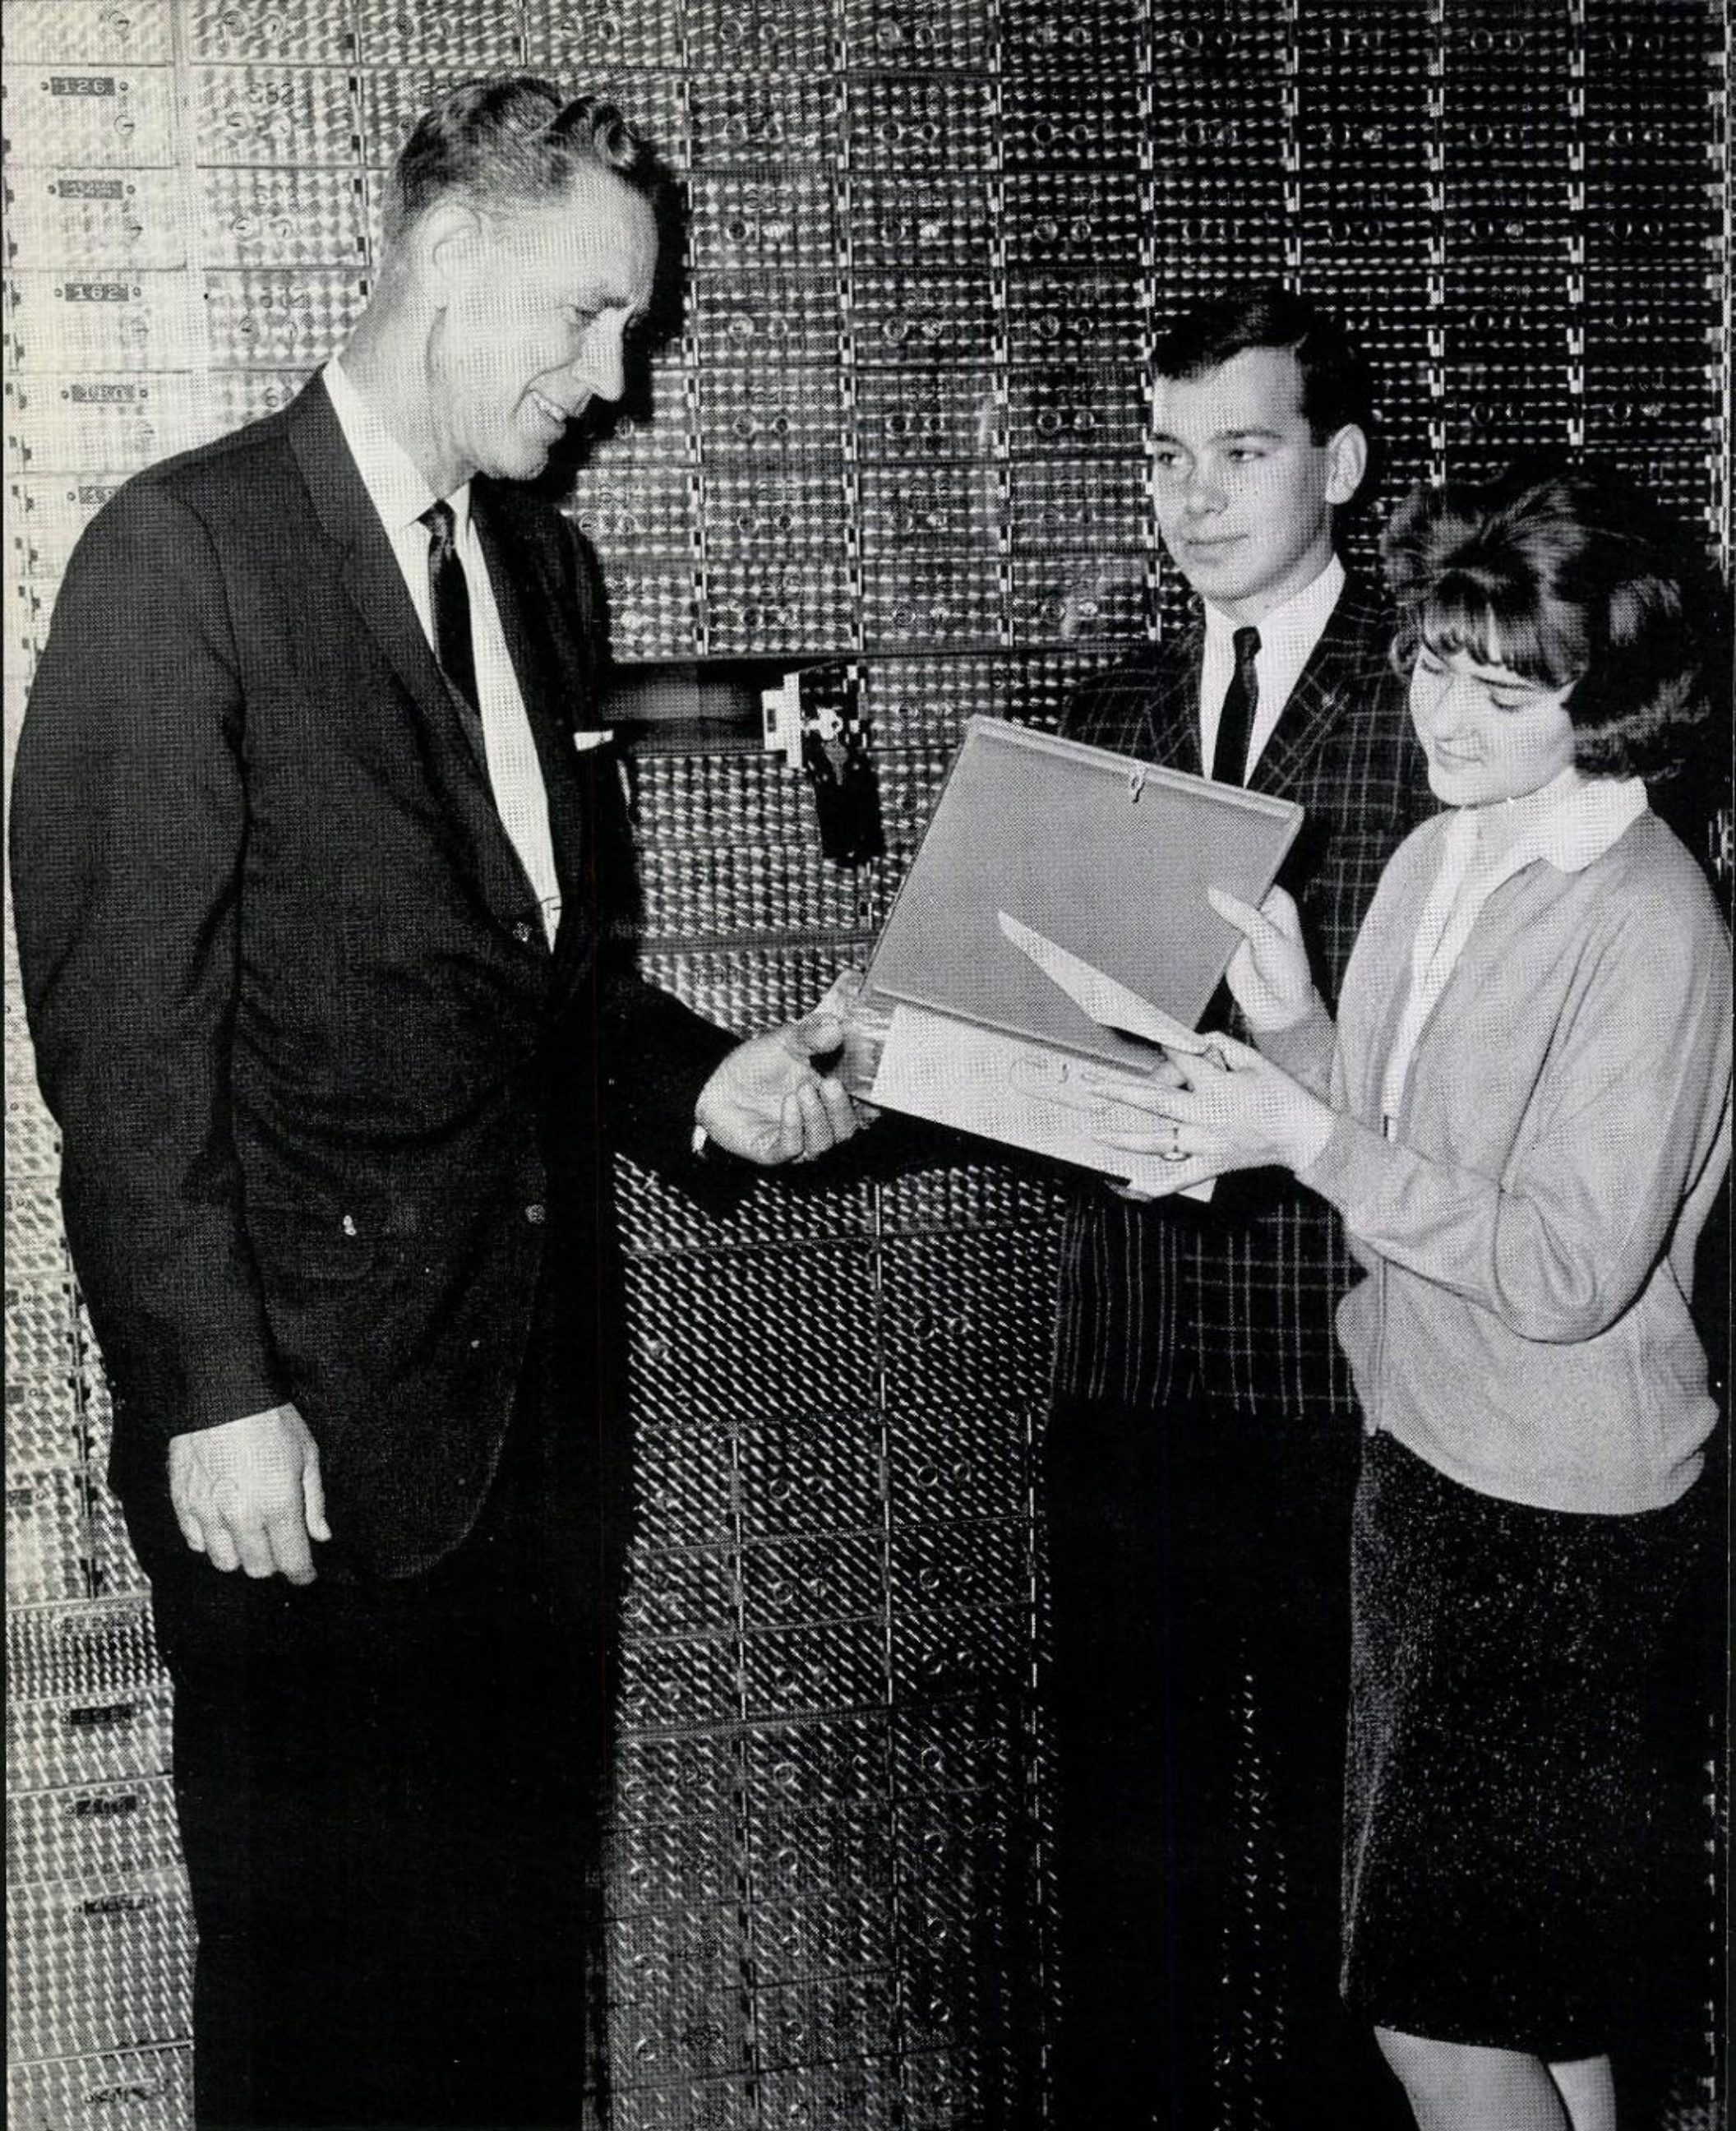

The enscribed name "Lawton" on our rings denotes the growing, bustling metropolis that encompasses Eisenhower. It reminds us of a city that is always on the move, always looking to the future and to greater heights and achievement.

It seems quite fitting and apropos that Eisenhower should be located in Lawton. Both names and synonymous with progress and high ideals.

The following section of the 1965 Talon is devoted to the advertising of Lawton's merchants and businessmen. These business establishments are those that are interested in the enrichment of Lawton. They are also firms that are looking to the future. They realize that the students of today are their customers of tomorrow. Thus, they are eager to have you become familiar with their firms and the services that they have to offer.

Many of the places of business that are included in this section will be familiar to our students. They are, perhaps, places that you have frequented via business transactions. They are a portion, an integral portion, of the city of Lawton; the city that built Eisenhower Junior-Senior High School.
